

Speedy D. Light Skit

Speedy D. Light represents the Speed the Light missions program for teenagers. Teens raise money to buy vehicles and other equipment for missionaries. These vehicles are often used to transport materials purchased by BGMC. The vehicles take our missionaries wherever they need to go in order to reach the lost. For this skit, use the Speedy puppet or print out the Speedy picture onto card stock and attach to a craft stick to create a stick puppet.

(As the skit begins, Speedy comes racing from behind stage. Screeching car brakes are heard and up pops Speedy. He has a Spanish accent and talks very fast. He hardly stops for a breath. When he gets too excited, he beeps. His catchy key line is, "I am so excited! Beep! Beep!")

Hi, boys and girls! It's me, Speedy D. Light. I have been seeing God do great things around the world. Because of money given by boys and girls like you, as well as teenagers and adults, the message of Jesus is going forth. I am so excited! Beep! Beep!

Recently I heard from Warren and Marjorie Denton. They are retired workers who had served God for years in China! When they first arrived in China, they traveled on a little motorbike provided by Speed the Light. That may not sound like much, but this motorbike saved them hours and hours of walking in the heat of the day as they traveled to Chinese language school. Learning the language was very tough. It took lots and lots of work. But they worked hard. They wanted desperately to be able to share the truth about Jesus dying on the cross for everyone's sins. I am so excited! Beep! Beep!

BGMC provided the Dentons with literature for Vacation Bible Schools, books to train young pastors, tracts to evangelize people, and giant rolls of pictures that unrolled like a scroll so they could show picture stories about Jesus.

I know it's not easy for you to raise money for BGMC. It's also very tough for teenagers to raise money for Speed the Light. But it's worth it. The missionaries work and give the very best they can. It's important that you boys and girls do your very best to help the missionaries by raising money for BGMC. I am so excited! Beep! Beep!

Well, I'd better go. Keep giving to BGMC!

(He races off and the sound of squealing tires is heard.)
