

Speedy D. Light Skit

Speedy D. Light represents the Speed the Light missions program for teenagers. Teens raise money to buy vehicles and other equipment for missionaries. These vehicles are often used to transport materials purchased by BGMC. The vehicles take our missionaries wherever they need to go in order to reach the lost. For this skit, use the Speedy puppet or print out the Speedy picture onto card stock and attach to a craft stick to create a stick puppet.

(As the skit begins, Speedy comes racing from behind stage. Screeching car brakes are heard and up pops Speedy. He has a Spanish accent and talks very fast. He hardly stops for a breath. When he gets too excited, he beeps. His catchy key line is, "I am so excited! Beep! Beep!")

Hi, kids! I'm Speedy D. Light, and I travel the world finding out what missionaries are doing with BGMC funds and their Speed the Light vehicles. You'll never guess where I've been. Give up? Well, I'll tell you. I've been clear around to the other side of the world in the country of Germany. I am so excited! Beep! Beep!

Have you ever heard of a missionary naming a Speed the Light van? Do your parents have a name for their van? These missionaries did. They named their van Fiona Gulliver. The name Fiona came from the movie Shrek, and Gulliver was the guy who traveled all over the world. So, because they travel all over Germany, this van was named Fiona Gulliver. I am so excited! Beep! Beep!

This van was used to haul BGMC supplies, such as puppets, costume animals, stages, sound system equipment, and more. This missionary and his family traveled all over, ministering to the kids of Germany. Many kids were saved and filled with the Holy Spirit. I am so excited! Beep! Beep!

It's important for kids and teenagers to give to missions so missionaries can have the equipment necessary to do their work. Have you ever made a faith promise to God? A faith promise is a promise you make between you and God of how much money you believe you can raise each month for a year. When you make a faith promise, God will give you wisdom on how you can raise money. Try it! Kids all over America are making faith promises to God for BGMC! Well, I've gotta go! I'll be back soon. I'm off to other countries around the world. I am so excited! Beep! Beep!

(He races off and the sound of squealing tires is heard.)
